Safety Practices

Keep your crew safe and informed about Dry Storage Policies - safety is our top priority!

- Before entering, check for moving machinery and do not proceed until clear.
- Always follow the designated pedestrian paths marked by yellow striping and cones - do not enter the Forklift Only zones
- When forklifts are operating, stay 10ft away and never cross behind

Launch Reservations

Launch reservations are required year round for all boat moves. To schedule your reservation, email, call or text 206.940.1348.

- Boat move reservations are required during all operating hours; open to close
- Launch and Go - During high volume hours, the tenant must be present at the reservation appointment time. If Launch and Go applies, Port staff will notify you during the reservation process. Please arrive ready to load, start-up, and head out.
- Reservations are not a guarantee of dock space. Dock space is on a first-come, first-served basis.
- A reservation can be made by the tenant or "allowed access" user
- The final boat move will occur 15 minutes before closing – no additional moves can be made after that point.
- The boat must be ready to go with trim tabs up, antennas down, plugs in, tarp off, and lines ready (fenders preferred, but not required). If needed, Port staff may make the necessary adjustments with no liability for damages (labor fees apply).

Car Parking

Daytime parking is available inside the gated dry storage area. Overnight parking is prohibited inside the gate - please plan accordingly. With a valid Port parking permit, you may park in any yellow-striped parking space in any parking lot. Parking of vehicles in the dry storage launch area, wash down area, or rack areas is not allowed at any time. New permits are issued annually and can be picked up from the marina operations office. To receive permits, tenants must have current vessel registration documents on file, valid insurance on file, and the account must be in good standing.

- Port staff can deliver your vessel with the forklift to the sling launch and be charged the current forklift fee (sling launch fee included).

Customer Responsibilities

- The customer understands that the vessel is in a harbor environment and is subject to wildlife and weather-related issues. It is the customer's responsibility to take reasonable care and action to protect the vessel from these issues.
- Plugs should be removed from vessels unattended for more than two weeks. If the plug remains in, we recommended that you check the boat periodically.
- Boats must be ready for forklift handling - trim tabs up, antennas down, and plugs in. Also, auxiliary outboards, transducers, and dinghies must not interfere with fork placement.
- Customers must always stay at least 10 feet clear of running forklift, not walk through forklift only areas, and never walk behind, stand on, or touch the forklift.
- It is the customer's responsibility to inform the Port of any potential weakness or abnormality that may affect the boat's safe movement or storage.
- Dry storage customers are required to submit and maintain current registration and insurance on file with the moorage office.
- Low tides can affect launching access. Tides of negative 2.5 feet or more will shut down the launch for up to 1.5 hours before and after the minus tides. Please check the Port website, monthly newsletter, dry storage office window, and enroll in the texting notification service for minus tide alerts.
- You must notify the Port staff of any commercial vendor who can access the vessel for pre or post launch movement.
- Tenants cannot access the boat while stored on the rack; the Port must move boats to the wash area for access.
- All tenants must follow the current Port of Edmonds Rules and Regulations, which can be found online at our website.
