THE SALT WATER NET PEN PROJECT

Curious about the salmon net pen that appears in guest moorage every February? The pen is part of a program that aims to enhance saltwater recreation fishing in the mid-Puget Sound region by delaying the release of salmon into the wild. The salmon being reared in this project are Coho yearlings, hatched and raised at Issaquah State Salmon Hatchery. After the fish are transferred into the pen at the Port of Edmonds marina, the pen is moved down to the fishing pier where it remains until June when the fish are released.

This Salt Water Net Pen Project has been in operation since the mid 80's and was supported by members of Edmonds Trout Unlimited which also managed the Willow Creek hatchery here in Edmonds. Both volunteer projects come under the guidance of Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife. Recently, the Sno-King Chapter of Puget Sound Anglers have taken over the management of the program. The Port of Edmonds remains a proud sponsor of this fascinating project.

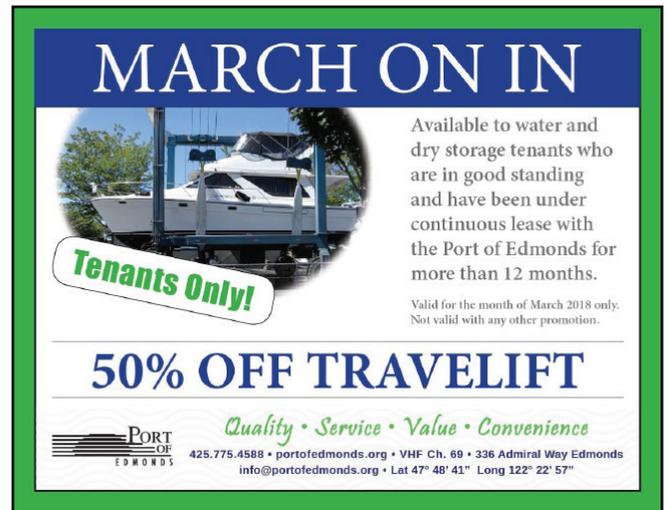

PREVENT SPILLS WITH PREVENTATIVE MAINTENANCE

Spring is coming! Time to change engine oil, check fluid levels, change fuel filters and complete routine inspections. Bilge maintenance is extremely important in preventing spills in the water. Keep your engine tuned to minimize oil leaks. Check that clamps and filters are seated properly. Place an oil absorbent pad under your engine and an oil-absorbent bilge sock near your pump. Wipe up spills, drips and splatters right away. Keeping your boat clean helps protect our the environment!

UPDATE: DRY STORAGE OPERATIONAL CHANGES

Many of you have provided us with valuable feedback regarding the 2018 Operational Changes at Dry Storage. We are especially appreciative to those who attended the Dry Storage Discussion on February 6th. We found it to be an insightful discussion and we received a wide array of suggestions and ideas. We are pleased to be extending the following offerings:

1. Water, lights and a gate will be installed on A-dock.
2. Dry storage operations will begin at 5am for the duration of the summer King season.
3. Our valued, long-term (12 months of continuous tenancy) dry storage tenants can claim their choice of reward for either "one free roundtrip public launch" or "one free night in guest moorage" with proof of purchase for 75 gallons of fuel from the Port of Edmonds fuel dock. Details are available on our website and in the Marina Operations office.

Our staff will do everything possible to continue to provide the highest level of service to all our Dry Storage customers. Thank you for your patience as we roll-out the new Dry Storage protocols on April 1st. As always, please reach out to the Marina Operations team with any questions.
